Full bio

Navigating the unionized workplace can be tricky. Even experienced HR Professionals can be faced with challenging situations, in a workplace with recognized employee associations (“unions”). Sometimes the best intentions can lead to grievances or even a PERB complaint. Alison Alpert with Best Best & Krieger LLP will identify some common pitfalls and mistakes that employers make when dealing with employee associations. This training will provide you with practical advice for avoiding these issues and for promoting good labor relations.

Alison is a Partner in the Labor & Employment practice group at Best Best & Krieger LLP
