Topic: Conducting a “Health Check” for Your Agency’s Health Benefits Administration

Administering health benefits at a public agency can come with all sorts of complications and risks. This is where a health check can come in and help you assess whether there are any potential compliance issues with your agency’s benefits. In this presentation, attorney Stephanie Lowe from Liebert Cassidy Whitmore will help you identify the potential financial and legal risks for mismanaging health benefits and provide specific ways public agencies can eliminate or mitigate these risks. The training will provide tools for checking your agency’s “health” related to compliance with cafeteria plan requirements, the Affordable Care Act’s Employer Mandate, and cash in lieu structure.

Who Should Attend: Human Resources, Risk, and Finance Staff.

Stephanie is Senior Counsel at Liebert Cassidy Whitmore.
